THE SMURFS

TRAVEL THE WORLD

The story

Inquisitive Smurf sneaks into Papa Smurf's laboratory with Smurfette. They want to learn more about the Magic Crystal experiments. This mysterious talisman has the power, so it is said, to teleport through time and space. Our two excited friends approach this sparkling object and want to touch it no matter what the cost! Catastrosmurf! There is an accident and the Crystal breaks. Our two Smurfs find themselves teleported to countries far away from their delightful little village!

Getting them home again will not be easy! The smurfing will be long and exciting. They travel the world with but one purpose: to collect the fragments of crystal scattered in each country they visit. They will then be able to put Papa Smurf's Magic Crystal back together, which is the only way they will be able to reverse the process which sent them to the other side of the world... Will they succeed? Luckily you are here and will certainly be able to help them return to the village... Get Smurfing!

Hints and tricks

- Don't forget that a kick is very useful in many levels and will sometimes enable you to uncover crystals hidden in unexpected places.

- In a North American level you can cling on to a bird's feet. This is very useful when looking for crystals.
- If you see a totem, remember that although it may bring you a bonus it could also bring down the wrath of the gods.
- Flying on a flamingo's back is sometimes a good way to make life easier!
- Watch out for wasps. If a wasp follows you, there must be a good reason! A little logic and you'll see why!
- A bird in this game will throw things at you. They may come in useful...
